

Featured in Helmet Hair Magazine
December 15, 2008

We've Ridden and Blinged a Long Way Baby!

Glamorous gifts for Biker Gals....

A woman owned company known as Bikers Bling™ is at your service to bling anything from bandanas to boots. You can also have your jeans and even your helmet custom covered with crystals. Get someone who has everything that special shinny gift for the holidays or simply treat yourself to some sparkle and style while you ride your scooter.

For some divas it's always the season to shine.

Kimberly Malasky channeled her creative and entrepreneurial spirit as a serious female rider into a blinging business this past year. Based in San Diego Bikers Bling™ was featured on FOX news last September <http://www.youtube.com/bikersbling>.

Besides clothing and spectacular helmets, she blings motorcycle parts such as your grips as well. And Bikers Bling™ sells LED lights and other accessories too. The prices range from $15 to over $3,000 depending on the extent of your custom crystal design. There are some unique and wild possibilities. You can contact Kimberly at www.bikersblingonline.com

Dot Robinson, renown trailblazing woman rider and sidecar racer, was bold and somewhat blinged as well. In her 80's she rode a pink Harley Road King with a custom chrome lipstick holder mounted on the handle bars! A viable option for today's female riders to express themselves is to bling themselves and or their bikes. Your imagination and style are your only limits now baby.

Blog by K.Lee Kappmeier, freelance writer, founder of Biker Yoga and biker chick featured in the news segment mentioned above.

Posted by helmethairmag on December 15, 2008 | Permalink